W. T. CARTER IS
THE COMPLAINANT

Check Was for $25 and Drawn on Farmers and Merchants National

Frank M. Howard of Tustin is wanted. He has disappeared and has left behind him a string of worthless checks and unpaid bills, and a dozen or more people of Tustin and Santa Ana will suffer for having trusted him. Howard has a five-acre ranch at Tustin. There are at least two mortgages on this ranch. He owes over $130 at the Tustin meat market, and grocery bills in Santa Ana.

About ten days ago Howard passed a bad fictitious check at San Pedro and was arrested, but the matter was squared at that time. Then other bad checks began to come in with no funds at the Farmers & Merchants' National Bank to meet them.

A complaint charging him with passing a fictitious check has been sworn to by W. T. Carter, the check being for $25 and drawn on the Farmers & Merchants' National Bank of Santa Ana.

About $1000 in bad checks have turned up here. The cash came mostly out of the pockets of Los Angeles people, largely racetrack men.

THE PRESIDENT BREAKS BREAD WITH HIS LOYAL FRIENDS OF WORK OR PLAY AND PAYS THEM TRIBUTE
WASHINGTON, Mar. 1.—One of the strangest collections of guests seen since Theodore Roosevelt became president, gathered at the White House today at a farewell luncheon. When the first course was served at 1:30 this afternoon, the men who had been in the highest councils of nations rubbed elbows with the men who had hunted, fished and rode with the president.
The men of the "tennis" cabinet, all the secretaries of government, including Chief Forester Pinchot, Postmaster General Meyer, Ambassador Jusserand of France, were in attendance. John Abernathy, the Oklahoma wolf hunter, Bill Sewall, the Maine guide, "Yellowstone" Kelly and Captain Seth Bullock, the first sheriff of Deadwood, were among the guests.
In an informal speech President Roosevelt said: "You are here nominally as members, or to meet members of the 'tennis' cabinet. You are men with whom I have worked, played, boxed, walked or rode. Really you represent the men with whom I have worked during my administration. You have given me loyal service. Through others has been accomplished the major part of all I have done, and in a vast number of cases, the doing of the work itself has been your only reward. The credit came to me. There are many others I would like to have had here, but there was no room."

The above dispatch tells of the passage by the Assembly of the bill that provides for a new method of increasing the capital stock of an irrigation company. By it three-fourths of a board of directors, with the written consent of a majority of the stockholders, may increase the capital stock.

Three petitions concerning the capital stock bill were prepared by Attorney Keech, one favoring the bill, one favoring it should be the consent of two-thirds of the capital stock be required, and one opposing it. None of these was signed by more than a few stockholders. S. J. Jackman circulated a petition opposing it and got quite a number of signers. All these petitions have been forwarded to Sacramento.

SANTA ANA WON GAME 2 TO 0

Johnson's Final Game of Season an Exhibition of Fine Ball Twirling

The game yesterday against the Hoegge team was won by the Yellow Sox by the score of 2 to 0.

The Hoegges couldn't see them, let alone securing a safe hit off the speedy delivery of the big boy Johnson, who hails from Olinda way. Johnson was pitching his farewell game and he must have wanted to give the fans something to remember, as he pitched one of the greatest games that the local followers of the diamond have seen in a long time.

The day was warm and a goodly crowd turned out to see the American League wonder twirl his final game on this coast until the next winter season. The day was one of the kind that suited him and he sent the Hoegges back to the bench in regular manner for three long innings, and then he slowed down a little and let the visitors have a chance to get on the bags, but that was all the good it did them, for they got only two men past the keystone sack.

In the first inning Johnson began his slaughter of the lambs and kept it up throughout the game, and when the game ended it was found that he had fourteen strikeouts to his credit and had allowed only four safe hits, one of which was a two-bagger secured by Second Baseman Flick.

There was no scoring until the third inning, but the locals came near getting a run in the first when Brown, the first man, found the second ball from Gray's delivery for a two-sacker to left center. Mott sacrificed him along a peg with a neat bunt along the first base line. Captain Altizer came up and gave Brown the signal for a squeeze play, and so places a nice bunt down the third base line, but Brown is nabbed at the plate after a hard try to reach the rubber.

Two Runs in the Third
The Yellow Sox got their only two runs in the third inning. Angle, the first man up for the locals in the third inning, put out a line drive that fell into the hands of the center fielder. Johnson came to bat for the first time and singled to past second. Mott slammed out a double, on which Johnson finished the circuit. Brown had batted before Mott had secured a free pass to the initial sack and was now resting on third, and Eagle, in an attempt to catch Mott off the bag, overthrew second, allowing Brown to score. The nearest that the Hoegges came to scoring was in the seventh when, on singles by Flick and Goodman, they got a man as far as third, but could get him no further.

During the progress of the game Manager Crolic gave a little speech announcing the condition of Donovan, the Yellow Sox third baseman, and said that the hat would be passed for the benefit of the popular third sacker. While playing at San Diego Donovan was receiving the ball for the completion of a double play, and, in turning to catch his man, he was spiked, his big toe nail being torn, and receiving a bad cut on the toe. About $30 was given by the fans for his benefit.

Women Who Wear Well.
It is astonishing how great a change a few years of married life often make in the appearance and disposition of many women. The freshness, the charm, the brilliance vanish like the bloom from a peach which is rudely handled. The matron is only a dim shadow, a faint echo of the charming maiden. There are two reasons for this change, ignorance and neglect. Few young women appreciate the shock to the system through the change which comes with marriage and motherhood. Many neglect to deal with the unpleasant pelvic drains and weaknesses which too often come with marriage and motherhood, not understanding that this secret drain is robbing the cheek of its freshness and the form of its fairness.
As surely as the general health suffers when there is derangement of the health of the delicate womanly organs, so surely when these organs are established in health, the face and form at once witness to the fact in renewed comeliness. Nearly a million women have found health and happiness in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Ingredients on label—contains no alcohol or harmful habit-forming drugs. Made wholly of those native, American, medicinal roots most highly recommended by leading medical authorities of all the several schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments.
For nursing mothers or for those broken-down in health by too frequent bearing of children, also for the expectant mothers, to prepare the system for the coming of baby and making its advent easy and almost painless, there is no medicine quite so good as "Favorite Prescription." It can do no harm in any condition of the system. It is a most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening nerve tonic adapted to woman's delicate system by a physician of large experience in the treatment of woman's peculiar ailments.

will during the next few days or weeks have something to say about advertising and in order to double the assurance that everybody may have a chance to read and "inwardly digest" what we have to say, we will ask the prior to repeat each article two or three times.

Our articles will make a "continued story" and when completed there need be no onsay that they don't know what the Kansas Tin shop is going to do next.

There is legitimate advertising and there is illegitimate advertising, the one may be conducted in a wise and profitable manner and the other way may show how foolish and short sighted an otherwise sensible man may be.

This city has had occasional examples of both kinds "and then some," of which they may be "more to follow."

You Auto Understand the Auto Situation

We wish to correct a misstatement in yesterday's Register, to the effect that the fastest time made at the Hill Climb was made by a shaft drive car. This is a mistake as the fastest car was the Apperson, time, 1 min. 24 sec. The second fastest car was the Stearns, Big Ben, time, 1 min. 29 1/2 sec. Both these cars are chain drive.

We, Austin & Henrickson, are located at 405-407 East Fourth Street and we sell the Reo, and we are proud to say that they are chain-drive cars.

Why are we proud of this?

First—Because we are not trying to imitate a 2000 to a 6000 dollar car.	Fourth—To be comfortable and safe.
Second—They get there and back again. Always reliability, is our motto.	Fifth—To be so well constructed that the vital points don't give way at a critical moment.
Third—To be able to travel all day at thirty miles an hour, and hit up to forty when we want to.	Sixth—To have beautiful design and finish.

AGAIN HOODOO HORSE RUNS

Driver Jumps From Wagon As It Tips Over—Pool of Milk on the Street

Ewing Brothers have a hoodoo horse on one of their milk wagons. Some time ago the team of which the animal was one, ran away, with the result that the horse's left hind foot was cut up badly. Saturday night while on his rounds Driver Martin ran into a house with a bottle of milk. When he came out the team and wagon were gone. That time Martin caught them, but not until damage was done to the milk supply. Yesterday evening as Martin was driving south on Broadway near Second a trace dropped. Instantly the horse ran and then the tongue came down. The driver hung onto the lines until the corner of Broadway and First was reached. The horses began to turn. Not until the wagon was almost over did the driver jump. The wagon was smashed up badly, and a pool of milk decorated the street. The horses were caught on Orange avenue by the driver.

Carrying Power With You

In locating a new plant or changing the location of the old, power facilities must always be taken into consideration. That is, provided, of course, you do not use electricity.

If you use electric power you need not give the subject any anxious thought, for you can carry power with you wherever you go. With electricity the crowded down town district and the open suburbs are one and the same, so far as power goes.

We can supply you with all the power you need for any purpose, and you'll have to pay only for the power you actually use. Our lines can be extended if they do not reach your locality, and you can have exactly the same sort of service at the edge of town where rent is cheaper, as you could if you lived next door to our plant, and that means the best of service.

OPPOSED TO BLACK BILL

Stockholders of S. A. V. I. Co. Voice Protest and Direct Directors to Fight It

After a thorough explanation of the Black bill by Attorney E. E. Keech, the stockholders present at the meeting in the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation Co. office at Orange last Saturday passed a resolution voicing their opposition to the bill and instructing the board of directors to take such steps as it should deem necessary in opposition to it. Director George Dierker, of the board of directors, presided at the meeting. Attorney Keech's arguments against the bill were published in Saturday's Register. Following the attorney's talk, questions were asked and suggestions made by Messrs. Armor, Wade and Beals. One question was as to the likelihood of support for the bill in the state legislature. Attorney Keech said that undoubtedly the great central valleys of California would favor the bill, that the damage that would result from its passage would fall heaviest upon Southern California where the irrigation systems are well developed.

"Had the system of control by a board of engineers been begun in the early days of the state and the water systems grown up under it, it might not work so bad, and it would be acceptable even now to the undeveloped sections of the state, but to us it is a decidedly pernicious bill." Keech read communications from San Bernardino and Riverside members of the Tri-County Reforestation Committee, in which they expressed opposition to the Black bill.

"The Southern end of the state is solid against it," said he.

Attorney Keech read a letter from Attorney R. E. Houghton of San Francisco, considered the greatest water lawyer in the state, in which it was stated that this measure was first proposed twenty years ago. Houghton says that the bill does not seem likely to pass, but should it show signs of vitality it ought to be fought most strenuously by Southern California.

As yet the Black bill has not been introduced into the Assembly.

The board of directors of the S. A. V. I. Co. is keeping in close touch with the procedure at Sacramento, and will take further immediate action should its advisors at the capitol deem it best.

REAL ESTATE IS ON THE MOVE HERE

Several Ranches Have Changed Hands Through L. W. Hemphill's Agency

L. W. Hemphill, the real estate man, reports the following deals: Frank Robertson on North Glassell street to Elmer Hayward; C. H. Woodward residence on West Chapman to Jesse Simmonds; Jas. Curry a 10-acre tract, 2 1/2 miles southeast to H. Walker and H. Garnett of Santa Ana; the W. L. McDowell orange ranch 2 1/2 miles northeast to C. C. Stoner of Kansas. The latter place will be occupied by Mr. Seacrest who will take care of it.

The ranchmen and fruit growers are plowing up the orchards and fields around Villa Park, the fields being prepared for planting, while in the orchards the fertilizers are being plowed under.

The husbands and friends of the members of the P. E. O. Society were entertained Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Smith. The ladies presented a laughable farce, "A Women's Business Meeting."

they attended the quilting party at Villa Park.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Ryan of Stockton, with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Martin of Billings, Mont., have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Henry Snyder, of whom they are relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Martin, who are wealthy stock people of Montana, have also been visiting Albert Williams of Tustin, who is related to Mrs. Martin. They are now in Long Beach, but will return here to locate somewhere in Orange county, either in this locality or at Santa Ana. They are much pleased with the country.

RIFLE BULLET THROUGH LEG

Mexican Woman at Capistrano Accidentally Wounded Yesterday Morning

A Mexican woman at San Juan Capistrano yesterday morning was accidentally shot through one leg. Some member of the family had been out hunting with a 22-caliber rifle, and had returned to the house, when the rifle was carelessly dropped, and was discharged. The bullet entered one of the woman's legs, striking the shin bone from the front and circling it, remained imbedded in the calf, from it was removed by the county physician.

KEEP KIDNEYS WELL

Health Is Worth Saving, and Some Santa Ana People Know How to Save it

—Many Santa Ana people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Sick kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill health, but there is no need to suffer nor to remain in danger when all diseases and aches and pains due to weak kidneys can be quickly and permanently cured by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. Here is a Santa Ana citizen's recommendation.

H. C. Shaw, 917 East Pine street, Santa Ana, Cal., says: "I have great confidence in Doan's Kidney Pills. I was a sufferer from kidney disease, and tried many remedies to cure same but never found one that gave me such relief and acted so quickly and permanently as Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Tubbs & Co.'s drug store. I highly recommend them to anyone suffering from kidney complaint."

OF VITAL IMPORTANCE
On Wednesday evening there will be held the first of a series of lectures under the auspices of the local auxiliary of the Anti-Tuberculosis League, which has undertaken the work here of teaching the public the things it ought to know about the great white plague. The city school department has already promised its co-operation in the furtherance of this important educational work, and the auxiliary will have the backing of the Orange County Medical Society.
But this work is not primarily for the teachers nor for the physicians. It is for every man, woman and child in the county, for their protection and benefit. For years scientific men have been studying the disease, and there are certain known principles of living and treatment that alone will stop its ravages and spread. The purpose of the Anti-Tuberculosis League is to make known to everyone what those principles are.
In order that the auxiliary may be of the greatest benefit to the locality it is necessary that the enrollment and the attendance at the lectures be large. The first meeting, Wednesday night, will be held in the assembly hall of the high school, and the room should be crowded. The lecturers are men of wide experience, and the work deserves unanimous support.

THE ROOSEVELT ADMINISTRATION
Despite the fight being made against the administration by the reactionary element in congress and elsewhere, never since the administration of James Monroe, has this great country of ours been so thoroughly unified in spirit, nor so free from dangerous agitation as now.
The Monroe term of office is generally referred to as "the era of good feeling." Not that his administration was barren of results by any means. The public debt was greatly reduced, the Floridas were peacefully acquired, and the western limits of the country fixed at the Pacific ocean. Internal taxes were repealed, the military establishment reduced, but the organization was improved, and progress made in the suppression of the slave trade and of piracy.
It is true that the present administration has been a more or less tempestuous one, as compared with that of Monroe's, and it has passed through a great financial crash. But there has been at the helm a man on whom the people were united and who did not disappoint them. Tremendous influences have been arrayed against him, but they have never been able to discredit him with the common people, on whom like Lincoln he has always relied.
Now the end of his rule brings to the fore a man on whom the whole country north, south, east and west look to with a single eye in the confidence that he will be able to meet and solve all questions pertaining to his high office. No man ever entered into office under more favorable auspices than will President Taft on the fourth of next month.
He has shown himself one of the most remarkable men this country has so far produced. He has handled situations that seemed impossible, has shown a strenuousness continued for years that demonstrates his possession of a mental and physical equipment that are marvelous in the extreme, and as to his patriotism, integrity and genuine moral stamina, he is, like Caesar's wife "above suspicion." Even the lure of the presidential office could not induce him to compromise with integrity. In this he demonstrated that which Henry Clay claimed for himself, that he "would rather be right than President."

Have you noted his last achievement? He has done what even Grant and his battalions could not do—he has actually conquered the south. The haughty people of the southland could withstand them all, even Roosevelt, but when Big Bill Taft bore down on them, they threw up their hands. Of course the politicians will many of them hold out for a while, but they don't count much these days. Roosevelt has shown that, and now that he has shown them how they can under safe leadership run things without the politicians, they are going to stay with his successor and continue the business at the old stand.
Why the politicians did not want to nominate Taft—they wanted Cannon. But they had to take Taft, and for fear of the Steam Roller with Roosevelt and all the people behind it, they had to get out and shout for him, too.

Fellow countrymen, we have some good men at the fore this year of grace, and the outlook is decidedly bright for the coming four years. This comes from being united, and united on the right men. This breeds confidence in all circles, and thus we have the elements of success. In union there is strength, and in public confidence there is the certainty of business activity. Together they promise another era of good feeling, and abundant prosperity.

EDITORIAL INEFFICIENCY
Just a word to congratulate the people of Wisconsin on the birth of their new weekly, says Herbert N. Casson in the second number of La Follette's Weekly Magazine. May it live long and prosper, but never so long or so prosperous as to forget why and by whom it was established.
We have about 23,000 newspapers and magazines already in the United States, but most of them are as much alike as a gross of phonograph records. Here and there is an editor who has a song of his own, such as Will Allen White, of Kansas, or one who is big enough to tilt against parties and presidents, such as Joseph Pulitzer, of the New York World. But in the main our editors are the obedient leaders of social and political cliques, from whom nothing new or virile is to be expected.
The most important business now before this country is new business, and we need new, free, independent papers to point the way.
No one, not even the founder of this paper, knows the whole truth about social progress. We are all, at best, no more than learners.
We must make experiments—as many, perhaps, as Darwin made before he discovered the principle of evolution. We must discuss and compare and investigate.
The American Revolution is not an historic event. That is the persistent mistake of the conservatives. It is a continuous process. It is in full swing right now, in every state in the Union.
Already we have accomplished ten great tasks—we have conquered this continent from the Indians, established a preliminary self government, overspread the west, prevented secession, opened up the path of progress to women, attained industrial supremacy, amalgamated people of many races, acquired a large measure of culture and refinement and developed a national spirit. No other nation, in so short a time, has ever accomplished so mighty a work as this.
But we are not done yet. There are ten other tasks for us and our children to do. We must tame the trust, regulate the trade unions, purify politics, curb Wall street, restrict immigration, give the negro a square deal, enfranchise women, provide work for the unemployed, conquer disease and cheapen the cost of law. Here is a programme of work that calls for all the brains and all the nerve that we Americans possess.—Newspaperdom.

Despite the fight being made against the administration by the reactionary element in congress and elsewhere, never since the administration of James Monroe, has this great country of ours been so thoroughly unified in spirit, nor so free from dangerous agitation as now.
The Monroe term of office is generally referred to as "the era of good feeling." Not that his administration was barren of results by any means. The public debt was greatly reduced, the Floridas were peacefully acquired, and the western limits of the country fixed at the Pacific ocean. Internal taxes were repealed, the military establishment reduced, but the organization was improved, and progress made in the suppression of the slave trade and of piracy.
It is true that the present administration has been a more or less tempestuous one, as compared with that of Monroe's, and it has passed through a great financial crash. But there has been at the helm a man on whom the people were united and who did not disappoint them. Tremendous influences have been arrayed against him, but they have never been able to discredit him with the common people, on whom like Lincoln he has always relied.
Now the end of his rule brings to the fore a man on whom the whole country north, south, east and west look to with a single eye in the confidence that he will be able to meet and solve all questions pertaining to his high office. No man ever entered into office under more favorable auspices than will President Taft on the fourth of next month.
He has shown himself one of the most remarkable men this country has so far produced. He has handled situations that seemed impossible, has shown a strenuousness continued for years that demonstrates his possession of a mental and physical equipment that are marvelous in the extreme, and as to his patriotism, integrity and genuine moral stamina, he is, like Caesar's wife "above suspicion." Even the lure of the presidential office could not induce him to compromise with integrity. In this he demonstrated that which Henry Clay claimed for himself, that he "would rather be right than President."

AN INCIDENT
We were all up to Gerwing's— That was the fellow's name— It was about quitting time, But we lingered just the same.
When there came the awful holler I'm sure we ever heard; Then in walked a customer And I'll tell you he was a "bird."
He was dressed in old Kentucky jeans From his head to his toes, And he wore a broad brimmed white hat Pulled clear down to his nose.
He was tall and wiry And he looked most awful glum. He said he had a bicycle And to have it fixed he had come.
Then the boss he asked this geezer When he wanted this work done, And he said: "I must be in Orange By the rising of the sun."
And then soberly he nodded, And to him quickly said: "I'll get your old skate out tonight If I don't make a red."
Then he asked him, with a smile, Where he got that old thing. He said: "I had it when a boy, And I'm sixty-nine next spring."
And then Bob went after that ancient And made things fly, my sires. He put on new rims and new spokes, And handsome Goodrich tires.
Hub and handle bars, New frame and saddle, too, And when he'd added the pedals and saddle stem The thing looked like new.
Now, you can talk about the repairs And bicycle men you have met, But one who can come up to this fellow I don't think you ever found yet.
If you should have an old broken bike And should want this man to meet, His shop is still in Santa Ana, 308 West Fourth Street.

Picnic at the Park

The girls and boys of High School '04-B class had one of the jolliest picnics of the year at Orange County Park. Mr. June Smiley taking them up to that beautiful spot in his hay wagon.

The entire day was spent there in the unequalled joys of picnicking, the party returning in the evening.

For His Birthday

On Saturday evening Mr. Will McLain was the guest of honor at a surprise party given by a number of his intimate friends. The event was given to celebrate Mr. McLain's birthday, and took place at the home of Miss Edna Masters at the residence of Miss Masters' sister, Mrs. Bert McMurray.

The rooms were beautiful with a profusion of violets, and the cheerful glow of a big open fire was not the least of the charms of the home, which was illuminated with the soft light from red lanterns. Violets were also used in the dining room, where, after an evening with cards, the guests were served with delicate refreshments at a prettily appointed table.

Those enjoying the pleasures of the occasion were Misses Edna Masters, Mattie Whitson, Louise Schramm, Elzada Clayton, Bessie Cray, of Boone, Iowa; Messrs. Chas. Clayton, W. F. Menton, Clare T. Johnson, Hal McCullough and Will McClain.

Miss Eubank's Party

One of the cleverest of parties was given Saturday night by Miss Helen Eubank, at the home of T. P. Marsh. Clever conceits marked the whole affair, which began with a game of progressive hearts, played with different sizes of hand painted cards passed in a basket. The first prize was won by Miss Montgomery, the consolation going to Miss Dobson.

A pink and white scheme prevailed in both the decorations of the dining table and the dainty refreshments served therein, the Dragon catering. The center piece was cunning, being

Vandermast and Son

A Teddy bear suspended from a stake representing the north pole. The favors were Teddy bears in snow balls, from which ribbons extended to each plate. The snowballs were suspended from the chandelier and after the last course, the ribbons were pulled with a pretty result, each snowball opening and letting fall a miniature snow storm.

Following the repast served in such unique fashion, was an hour of music and readings. Miss Pixley of Orange, read charmingly, and enjoyable music numbers were given by Miss Eubank and Fred Smith of Orange. The best of all, however, was the chorus singing in which all joined.

A wishing diversion was one of the evening's pleasures. Slips of paper tied to wishbones were distributed to each guest who wrote on one slip a wish, on another the reason for the wish. These were collected, shuffled, distributed promiscuously, and then read aloud "hit or miss." This was the merriest sort of an amusement and resulted in fun galore.

Miss Eubank's guests were Misses Beth Harrison, Pauline Parsons, Georgia Barnes, Gertrude Montgomery, Reba Dobson, Miss Pixley of Orange; Messrs. Spencer McKern, States and Fred Smith of Orange, Wm. Freeman of Los Angeles, A. W. Rutan.

Ebell Entertained By Musicians

The program given before the Ebell Society Saturday afternoon, Feb. 27, by members of the Ebell Music Section, proved most delightful indeed, giving as it did a splendid idea of the work carried on by this section under the leadership of Miss Eva Bradford, curator.

Preceding the regular musical program came a short business meeting and a most interesting address on "The Preservation of Our National Resources," by Mrs. John Swanner. Mrs. Swanner's talk was a masterly presentation of the subject, showing wide research and knowledge of the matter presented, and a grasp of the situation and practical details more usual to the masculine than the feminine mind.

She spoke more particularly of the shameful destruction of the forests, showing the dependence of almost every industry upon their preservation, and explained in detail the problem which is now facing the people of the United States, that "difficult problem of using, not abusing, our natural resources," and the dependence of our future material greatness upon early and wise legislation. This address was delivered before the District Federation convention at Riverside, where it received much praise, and was repeated here by special request.

The following program was then rendered by the Music Section, all the numbers of which were excellent, and greatly enjoyed, the two papers showing much thought and careful arrangement.

Miss Rosa Boyd was a passenger on an out bound electric car this morning.

Miss Anna Atkinson of Los Angeles came down from the city last evening and begun work in Crookshank & Beatty's millinery department this morning. She trimmed last season for the Misses Reinhaus.

Choral Service

The Baptist church was well filled last evening for the regular monthly choral service which was given under the direction of the organist, Percy K. Lusk. Mrs. Lusk accompanied on the piano in most of the numbers given. The prelude, a duet on the organ by Mr. and Mrs. Lusk, from Mendelssohn was very pleasant and pretty. The same could be said of the offertory in which Mrs. Lusk accompanied on the piano.

The anthems "Arise, Shine" (Maker) and "By Babylona Wave" (Gounod) were both beautiful, especially the latter, and were well given.

The quartet, "The Radiant Morn Has Passed Away" was one of the most beautiful things ever undertaken by this quartet. It goes without saying the male quartet "Now the Day is Done" was a pleasing number. Those who attend these choral services always know a treat awaits them in this quartet's singing.

The two solos, one by C. H. Taylor, "Babylon" (Adams) and the other by Miss Tedford, who sang the old and beautiful gospel hymn "Come Unto Me" were both much enjoyed.

The program was ended by the postlude "Priests March" which was given by request, many remaining in their seats to hear it even to the last note.

Marrying Mary

It is a gift as rare as it is effective to be able to be many sided, to be fantastic, or ironical, or human at one's pleasure, to be able to express passion and imagination at will, to be capable of handling an emotion as of managing an affection, to be able to appear trivial, or grotesque, or satirical, or splendid, to be romantic or actual, to be heroic or sordid, to be brilliant or extravagant, amusing and entertaining—yet all this, and more, the comedienne must be who plays the part of Mary Montgomery in Edwin Milton Royle's musical play,

The Gingerbread Man

It is small wonder that theatre goers prefer musical comedy for everything such an unusual aspect and it offers such a variety of entertainment and so much amusement is crowded into the small space of three hours that one is transported for the time being into a different land. A land where all is light and brilliancy, pretty music, delightful femininity and the whole atmosphere an enchanted aspect. The Gingerbread Man with his myriad of entertainers will be with us soon.

Hi Henry's Great Show

theatre at night. Seats now on sale at Hervey & Parsons.

—The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

CALIFORNIA'S SHOW BUILDING

At Seattle Exposition; Lode
Star for Attention of Seattle Architects

SEATTLE, Wash., March 1.—California has "put one over" on the commonwealth of Washington.
When the California legislature dipped down deeply into the state pocket and brought up a hundred thousand dollars for representation at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition, Washington knew that it meant something fine for the big show upon which it has set its heart and lavished its millions. California is counted upon to go some when it comes to whirlwind advertising, backed by a delivery of "the goods," but it is to be confessed that Washington looked for nothing such as it has been given, or rather, was given when the California building was completed and opened to the public view.

It might have been lifted bodily from the land of palms and "dolce far niente." To Washington and these others of the North, its architecture is altogether new. The north does not know a great deal about the hal-cienda of the South, but it is an odds on bet that, having seen the California building, it will know more of it in the future.

Already it is the lode-stone for local architects, and local artists are spending their spare time studying the details of its frontal ornamentation. Which, in a few words, means that California has given Washington one of the features for its exposition.

The California Promotion Committee, which had the construction in charge, not only gave the exposition one of its most beautiful buildings, but beat all local records at construction. Started after work was begun on the Oregon building, the California structure was completed almost on the same day. In fact, the Oregon and California buildings were the first two state structures completed.
Oregon's building is another very handsome structure and in it the Oregon exhibit is already being installed.
The Canadian commissioner, William Hutchinson, is now on the grounds overseeing the work on Canada's splendid structure and the installation of the exhibit with which the Dominion recently won great credit at the Franco-British exposition in London. Canada's appropriation was $100,000 and its provinces are spending quite as much more.

The government buildings for Alaska, Hawaii, the Philippines and the fisheries are now well along toward completion and as the government is spending $600,000, some idea may be had of the beauty of its structures.
At the present rate of progress the exposition will be completed by May 1, one month before the day on which the big fair will be thrown open to the world.

MORTGAGE IN ONE BOTTOM

Releases of Encumbrances on 785 Acres Followed by New Mortgages for $38,000

The mortgages, trust deeds and attachments having to do with the California Celery & Produce Co. are now all in one bottom. Saturday a number of documents were recorded that released all mortgages then hanging on the 785 acres of land four miles southwest of Santa Ana owned by the company, and a new mortgage was put on. The new mortgage is given on two loans by the German American Savings Bank, one note being for $3000 at ten per cent, payable in one year, and the other note being for $35,000 at ten per cent, payable in three years. The releases were E. H.
Winans to Henry Hoskins, J. W. De-Witt to J. Ed. Ward, P. M. Conkle to Henry Hoskins, Commercial Bank to
I. M. and Ida Von Schrititz and E. A.
Stockslager to I. M. and Ida Von Schrititz, and there was recorded a re-conveyance of a deed of trust by W.
S. Hooper to the California Celery & Produce Co.

The California Celery & Produce Co.
has a troublous history. It was originally formed to grow celery for which the California Celery Union was to be the selling agent. Then came a fight in the corporation by which Von Schrititz gained control, deposed Ward as president and the property of the company went out of the celery business as far as the California Celery Union was concerned, the Japanese who leased from the company staying with the Celery Growers' Association.

Foreclosure suits and suits against the company by Ward, the latter claiming damages because his stock was sold, were filed. The Ward suit is still pending. Von Schrititz now owns practically all the stock in the company.

COUNT CARS FOR LICENSE

It is Proposed That a Change
Be Made in Ordinance Regulating Taxing of Circus

At a meeting of the city council tonight a new circus license ordinance will be read and proposed for passage.
The present ordinance has the license at $100 per day for every kind of circus that comes to town, whether large or small. The ordinance to be proposed to night would regulate the license according to the size of the circus. If this ordinance becomes law the circus will be taxed $10 for its first car, $5 for its second car and $1 per car for every additional car up to fifty cars, and for every circus with more than fifty cars the license shall be $100 per day.

At the meeting of the council tonight bids will be opened for a new compressor for the water works. A number of bidders have been here recently inspecting the works with a view of making prices on the new apparatus.
